

Cite It! – A birth of a widget

Barak Hecht

Leganto Development Manager

Faculty Onboarding

Difficult to convince to use a new system

Get them on board in an easy manner

Problems and the Solutions

Problem: Easily adding citations from the web into a reading list

Solution: 2 clicks to add a web page as a citation

Problem: No interference to the browsing experience

Solution: Open widget in the same window

Problem: Highlight materials available through the library

Solution: Show library coverage before item is added

Problem: Helping the library easily identify the required material

Solution: Automatically capture accurate metadata and match with the library collection

A hand is holding a sheet of white graph paper with a light blue grid. The background is a light teal color with decorative elements: a blue circular ruler with various holes and markings in the top left, and a bouquet of purple bell-shaped flowers in the top right. A thin orange horizontal line is positioned below the text.

Thank you!